What is Renderverse?

Renderverse is a multi-dimensional ecosystem that encompasses several products, the most important being RenderScan and the technology that powers it. RenderScan is a cross-device deep learning-based application that scans objects in the real world and mints them as NFTs.

RenderScan

- RenderScan lets you create NFTs from real-world objects within seconds by clicking a snap on our RenderScan Application.
- Our Multi-level Deep learning model will evaluate the snap clicked on your mobile and identify the objects with high precision. This cutting-edge technology was extensively developed and tested by RenderVerse engineers.
- The RenderScan app will be available both for Android and IOS.
